

JOB

ACG Nyström AB is a complete supplier of machines, software, and services that streamlines and quality assures textile products' production and development process.

In September 2020, ACG Fyrtal AB became part of ACG Nyström AB. We expanded our range with high-quality solutions for labeling, identification solutions for both consumers and industry, and our unique 3sixty bottle printer.

We work exclusively with world-leading brands that share our vision of offering cutting-edge technology with a service that exceeds our customers' expectations. Our knowledge of production technical systems and processes is built up over 100 years of close collaboration with our customers.

Service Technician / Engineer

ACG Nyström is looking for a new technician/engineer to join our 3sixty team in Katrineholm working with various specialized digital UV printers.

You will take part in the development, quality assurance and provide service and support to our customers and retailers. The work also involves running the machines, troubleshooting, installations, training, helping at trade shows, and being our primary customer contact in service and support. We will train you and give you the best possible conditions to succeed in your work.

You need to like traveling, meeting new people, and want to be involved in developing a fantastic product.

We are looking for a person that is mechanically minded and has computer-/automation knowledge. We do not require you to have previous engineering or technical training or experience, but it is beneficial. If you know how to build a computer from parts, install software and troubleshoot network issues, that will also come in handy. Knowledge of Adobe Photoshop, CorelDraw, or previous experience in the graphics industry is also of great value!

You need to be self-propelled, flexible, and structured. You must have the ability to collaborate and communicate with customers, suppliers and colleagues.

Requirements:

- Driving license.
- Good knowledge of English as almost all our communications are in English
- Very good working knowledge of Windows and Office Suite

Our 3sixty department is based in Katrineholm, but we do business globally. In the current world situation, we try to work as much as we can remotely, but your job will involve regular international travel. We are offering an exciting role within a dynamic team developing a great product.

If you are interested in this position and think you can contribute to our team, submit your application and CV to daniel.jaszczak@acgnystrom.se. If you have any questions, please call Daniel Jaszczak on 033-17 88 85.

Please visit our website www.acgnystrom.se for more information about us and our products.